6th International Tournament of Young Mathematicians (ITYM)

Rules, Regulations, and Guidelines

1. The “International Tournament of Young Mathematics” (henceforth called “the ITYM”) will be organized by Jacobs University Bremen gGmbH, Bremen (henceforth called “Jacobs University”). It takes place from July 13, 2014 to July 19, 2014, on the campus of Jacobs University.
2. Every reasonable effort will be made to carry out the program as advertised. Jacobs University shall not be liable for any delay, change, or cancellation of the program if such an event is caused by conditions beyond its control including, but not limited to, Force Majeure, Acts of God, natural disasters, and/or any other cause beyond the reasonable control of the party whose performance is affected.
3. Any time the participant is away from Jacobs University campus and all travel before arrival and after departure from Jacobs University takes place at the participant's own risk. Participants arriving before the beginning of the ITYM, or departing after its end, do so at their own risk, responsibility, and expense.
4. All participants must follow the instructions of the supervisor in charge.
5. On campus, the Jacobs University Housing Rules apply (as attached to this document).
6. When students leave campus on their own, they do so at their own risk, provided they check out and back in with the supervisor. No supervision takes place during such leaves.
7. The program includes excursions, for instance to downtown Bremen. On such excursions, there will be some free time for participants. During these times, participants are unsupervised and free to explore the place without being accompanied by a supervisor. All participants must report attendance and absence to the supervisor.
8. Special Clause for Minors: Stay on Campus
Underage students (in Germany defined as students under the age of 18) naturally are not under supervision at all times within the university system or in university accommodation. It is possible for students to leave the campus at any time; supervision does not take place off campus. As the parents or legal guardians, we declare that the possible increase in personal responsibility and self-discipline required will not be over-challenging for our child. Jacobs University, its employees and other authorized persons are in this respect relieved from their supervisory obligation. Parents or legal guardians will take all necessary measures required to ensure that the student has an adequate understanding of the ITYM and of life on campus in order for them to ensure their personal safety, to avoid violations of their obligations and to avoid causing damage. Parents or legal guardians are liable for their children. Jacobs University is exempt from liability for any violation against supervisory obligations, should they occur. Excluded from the aforementioned liability exemption are claims made for injury to life, limb, and/or health and for claims made against Jacobs University for compensation for damages caused by intentional or grossly negligent breach of their supervisory obligations.
9. Special Clause for Minors: Excursions and Leaving Campus
With their signature, the parents or legal guardians give their consent for the participating minor to carry out activities on their own, without a supervisor. When not accompanied by a supervisor, minors must move in groups of three. The supervisor is relieved of any supervisory obligations for the duration of the participant's absence from the group.
10. Jacobs University does not allow participants of the ITYM to consume alcohol or drugs.
11. Swimming is not permitted at any time.
12. For the duration of the ITYM, participants will receive a transponder key. In case of loss or damage, a replacement fee of 50EUR will be charged to the participant.
13. Participants are personally liable for all damages on campus incurred by them. If compensation cannot be claimed through an insurance company, participants and their parents and legal guardians are personally responsible for all resulting costs.

14. Jacobs University is excluded from any liability for culpable behaviour of participants.
15. Under certain circumstances (e.g., for transport to/from airport/train station, to visit a doctor) participants may travel at their own risk in a supervisor's vehicle, in the vehicle of another authorized supervising person, or in another private vehicle. Under such circumstances, the right to compensation for any damages (against driver and car owner) will be waived, if compensation cannot be claimed through an insurance company.
16. Any conflict situations arising will be mediated by the ITYM and Jacobs University. In case of repeated or serious violations of the rules, the ITYM may decide to end the participation immediately. The decision to end the participation is entirely at the discretion of the ITYM and Jacobs University. In case the violator is a minor, parents or legal guardians will be informed, and further action will be discussed. Parents or legal guardians will leave their contact details including E-mail and telephone (if available) with the ITYM, so they can be reached at any time, including in cases of emergency. They will immediately inform the ITYM of any changes of contact details. Parents and legal guardians give their permission for the ITYM to be ended for their child at their own expense either for serious violations of the rules or for pedagogical reasons.
17. Jacobs University and the ITYM have permission to use or publicize photographs taken during the ITYM on their homepage and for other advertising purposes. They will not pass on this material to a third party without permission by the participant.
18. Participants must follow the regulations of the ITYM competition published on <http://www.itym.org/rules>

Health Issues

The attached questionnaire must be returned completed and signed. For medical emergencies, Jacobs University must be informed of any health restrictions or illnesses which require special treatment, demand special care or attention, or which could cause a risk for others (e.g., risk of infection).

- a) According to the Infection Protection Act (Infektionsschutzgesetz) of the Federal Republic of Germany participants are obliged to inform Jacobs University in writing if the participant has, or is suspected of having, an infectious disease.
- b) If the participant regularly requires to take medicine or if he/she is dependent on any medicinal aids, the administration or use of these will be the sole responsibility of the participant.
- c) Lifesaving medical operative interventions or vaccinations which are considered to be urgently required by a consulted doctor will be carried out in case of an emergency.
- d) Jacobs University takes special care to provide a variety of meal options for many dietary needs and preferences. No responsibility can be assumed that the food offered will suit the personal needs of individual participants. It is the sole responsibility of participants to obey any special dietary restrictions (caused e.g. by allergies) they may have.
- e) Students must have adequate health insurance that is valid in Germany during the entire time of the ITYM.

Data Protection

The Jacobs University and the ITYM will treat as confidential all data which has been confided as part of this declaration and in compliance with pertaining regulations, and that the evaluation, processing, and use of this data will only take place in compliance with current applicable German Law, for the purposes of executing this agreement and/or agreements between Jacobs University and the participant.

6th International Tournament of Young Mathematicans (ITYM) Questionnaire for Medical Emergencies

In case of emergencies, this questionnaire will be handed to the consulting doctor to help carry out lifesaving medical procedures. All information will be treated as confidential.
